

Figure 9-1

Grotrian diagram for the hydrogen atom. The fine structure of the doublet levels is too small to be seen on this scale. Electric dipole transitions are labeled by the emitted wavelengths in nanometers.

